ANTI-AGING: TRU FACE ESSENCE ULTRA

With a bevy of anti-aging products on the market, it's hard to know what will maintain your fountain of youth. Nu Skin introduces an improved Tru Face Essence Ultra to help the battle with elasticity that may just keep you from nipping and tucking. Perfectly portioned blue capsules contain a silky firming serum to be applied both morning and night, post-toning and pre-moisturizing. Proprietary ingredients like Ethocyn promote firmness and elasticity content, while TeGreen 97 protects from oxidizing free radical damage. A new skin, indeed. $171. —ERIN RYDER

Platinum Power

CREAM: LA PRAIRIE

Forget the Platinum card this holiday season and pick up a jar of Cellular Cream Platinum Rare – a new anti-aging potion from renowned Swiss skincare company La Prairie. Its latest groundbreaking product is platinum-infused and retails for $1,000 for a 1.7 ounce jar. Sounds pricey? They can't keep enough of the diamond shaped little jars on the shelves at Bergdorf Goodman and Saks Fifth Avenue. Who knew that one of the world's most precious metals is also loaded with anti-aging powers? The packaging is tres chic and includes a small silver applicator with a round gold handle, embedded with a Swarovski crystal. — CD
