Faces of Malawi

This year, because of your generous VitaMeal donations, over 67,000 children ate a nutritious meal every day. Unfortunately, that is just a start. Here are a few snapshots of precious Malawian children.

Background:

On 14 April, 2010, a 7.1-magnitude earthquake hit the Yushu Tibetan Prefecture in Qinghai Province, causing many casualties. When the devastating earthquake struck, Nu Skin China donated 450,000 servings of VitaMeal to the China Foundation of Poverty Alleviation to assist four boarding schools and 1,975 kids from affected households in welfare homes.

A second distribution has been dispersed to all 1,975 children from affected households during the period of 15 September to 06 October, 2010. (See the table below)

Letter from a Yushu Child

Dear Uncles and Aunts:

I am very pleased to write you this letter.

First, I would like to express the most sincere appreciation and the highest respect to you on behalf of over 1,800 students of my school.

On 14 April, the unpredictable 7.1-magnitude earthquake caused a small, beautiful county to suddenly fall to ruins. That day was filled with the smell of death. In just one day we lost a lot; we lost our loved ones, friends and classmates who were so recently with us.

That morning, people were immersed in sweet dreams. Some students were playing with classmates at school and others were rushing to class, while elderly people were turning prayer wheels to pray for safety.

When our beautiful country was beginning the new day, suddenly, we felt a strong shaking. The people who were sleeping had little time to escape. A few narrowly escaped being killed by the earthquake. Some entire families were killed. Students in classes rushed out in a panic and some students hurrying to school were crushed to death by collapsing walls. Scared parents cried out to find their children. The kind, elderly women who had been praying for the safety of all lost their lives due to the merciless earthquake.

From afar, the destruction in beautiful and affluent Yushu was so appalling that one could hardly bear the sight of it. At that time, came brothers from various nations to aid us with love in our hardest and most helpless time. Now we are rebuilding our homes. You send VitaMeal for children to nourish their bodies. To make sure our children have strong bodies to study, you provide timely help with sincere hearts in this most painful situation. Your kind hearts create a powerful force to help us overcome disaster, lighting our passion for rebuilding our homes. We must convert sorrow into the strength to pull through. We must study hard, and do whatever we can to do good things like you in the future. We believe, with the help of you and others like you, our school will be restored even more beautiful than before.

Thank you again! We wish you good health, the very best of luck in your jobs, and a life of peace!

Philippines

Soy Lumaad, National Nutrition Coordinator for Feed the Children Philippines reports that from July through September 2010, 101,131 children from all over the Philippines were served hot VitaMeal and 49,139 mothers underwent training on proper health, nutrition, and sanitation – an integral component of the Feed the Children Philippines nutrition programme.

VitaMeal came to the rescue!

RYA JANE URSAL is five years old and about to turn six in November. She is raised by her single mother Esmeralda Ursal, who is 32 years old. Rya Jane was only 11 months old when suddenly – and for no clear reason – her father left them, with no further contact since. Her mother was jobless, so they were forced to live with her grandparents in Brgy Pasil, a very congested village in Cebu City. They all lived in a small, uncomfortable room located in a very congested area with poor ventilation, dim lighting and poor sanitation. In addition, Rya Jane was openly exposed to a more serious threat, since her grandfather suffers from tuberculosis.

Before Feed the Children Philippines came to this village, Rya Jane was brought frequently to the hospital with pulmonary problems. She was diagnosed with early stage tuberculosis. Fortunately, she responded well to medication for several months and was recently declared completely recovered.

When Feed the Children Philippines implemented the VitaMeal feeding programme in Pasil, Cebu City, Rya Jane was one of the beneficiaries. She gained four kilograms within six months. Receiving nutritious food seems to have boosted her immune system. Her mother explained that Rya Jane has not suffered any illness since she joined the feeding programme. Rya Jane has changed from a frail, withdrawn child to one who loves to play, and openly mingles with other children.

A programme that makes a difference.

IZA GRACE DISO is a special child with Cerebral Palsy. Complications in pregnancy due to her mother's diabetes may have been a factor in her condition. Iza is the youngest child with seven older siblings. She is seven years old, but because of her condition, she still needs constant assistance from her mother and siblings. Her mother, a street sweeper, is a single parent and depends on Iza's sister, Ronalyn, to bring the little girl to the regular feeding programme. Ronalyn not only brings her sister to the feeding, but she also helps with programme activities such as preparing and serving the food to the enrolled children. When asked why she gets involved, she said that her sister is not the only one who needs help, since other children are seriously underweight. It is a way for her to give back to other children for the assistance that the programme is extending to Iza. Ronalyn said that before the feeding, Iza was very weak and too skinny. But thanks to the VitaMeal feeding, and her physical therapy, Iza can now control her head movement. She has also displayed increased alertness and cheerfulness. Ronalyn said that Iza constantly reminds her of the feeding programme schedule. As the time for the feeding draws near, she says, “Ate, feeding now,” which means that she is prepared to be taken to the feeding site. She certainly wouldn’t want to miss a single feeding day.

South Africa

Letters from Children receiving VitaMeal from our charity partner, Hunger and Thirst, in South Africa:

This is a poem written by one of the older kids:

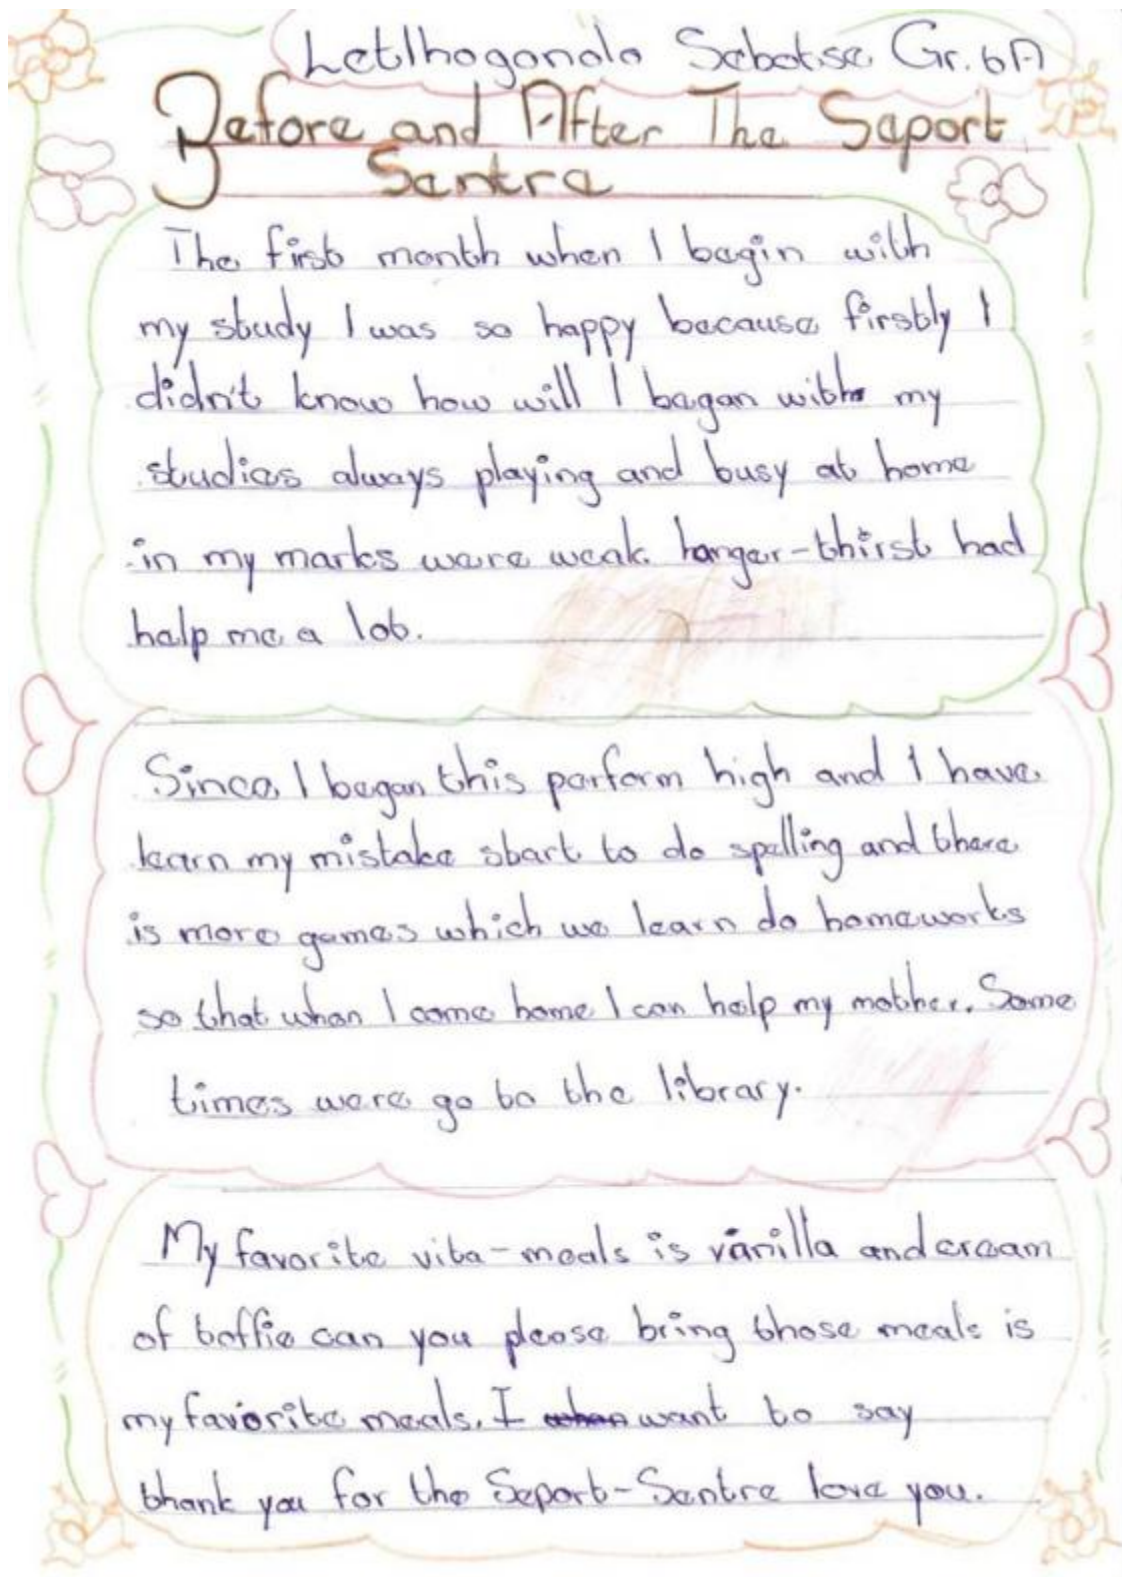

“The VitaMeals are lip-licking good,
it keeps me healthy and makes me a bit fatter.

A healthy meal keeps me all day,
fills the hungry space in my tummy.”

“Before I had no help with homework, now we watch as they show the work on the black board.

The teacher is very friendly and I am no longer rude”

Note: In the following letter, "Seport Sentre" means "support centre," which is run by Hunger and Thirst and provides food, as well as tutoring and mentoring, for the children. Also, in South Africa, a variety of VitaMeal flavours are produced.

Monthly Distribution Report

We appreciate the generosity of our distributors and customers, whose donations make these programmes possible. From July through September 2010, VitaMeal donations were delivered to authorised charity partners for distribution to those who needed it most. Although the following were the intended destinations for the July through September donations, please note that the charities may change destinations due to logistical issues or the needs of recipients. These numbers also include donations from Nu Skin Enterprises through the corporate match programme.
