

Beauty only skin deep

MOST of us want to look younger and the skin is one of the first areas we should target.

Our skin is always on view – it doesn't lie and, no matter how we might try to mask it, it gives a good indication of our age.

Now, people at Nu Skin Enterprises have developed a product called ageLOC Edition Galvanic Spa System II which they say not only hides the visible affects of aging but may also target the cause.

So what is it and why should our skin care?

Galvanic Spa from Nu Skin is a hand-held instrument that uses self-adjusting, low-level galvanic currents to the skin.

Nu Skin claims that a galvanic facial leaves skin more permeable to active ingredients for up to 24 hours after treatment.

The System II is a new version of the company's existing home-use spa treatment system.

Its features include a re-designed face conductor, simple user interface, portable and interchangeable treatment heads for face, body, scalp and other areas too.
