

NU SKIN FORCE FOR GOOD FOUNDATION GALA RAISES $1.6 MILLION TO IMPROVE CHILDREN'S LIVES

The stars shone a little bit brighter in October with the Nu Skin Force for Good Foundation fundraising gala that took place in conjunction with the company's 2015 Global Convention. With a "Starry Night" theme for the evening, more than 900 people attended and raised $1.6 million USD to support children's causes around the world.

The highlight of the night was the much anticipated live auction that featured a variety of exciting items such as extravagant vacation packages, naming rights, dinner with Blake Roney and several VIP experiences.

"It was thrilling to see the energy and the great generosity of our sales leaders whose bids resulted in more than a million dollars raised for the Foundation," said Gary Garrett, managing director of the Nu Skin Force for Good Foundation. "The funds that were raised will have an incredible impact on providing relief and hope to children around the world."

CHEWA KING KALONGA GAWA UNDI HONORED WITH LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Chewa King Kalonga Gawa Undi was honored with the Nu Skin Force for Good Foundation Lifetime Achievement Award at its recent fundraising gala. His Highness has made tremendous efforts to improve the education, health, peace, agriculture and well-being of children in the African countries of Malawi, Mozambique, Tanzania and Zambia.

His Majesty supports what the Foundation is doing in Malawi by encouraging his chiefs to participate in the School of Agriculture for Family Independence (SAFI) and the Children's Brighter Future initiatives. Also, last year the king's Chewa Heritage Foundation partnered with Nu Skin's Force for Good Foundation to help the flood victims in southern Malawi.

His force for good spirit has often been felt as the leader of approximately 15 million people in four countries of Malawi, Mozambique, Tanzania and Zambia. He has made a positive difference with initiatives that encourage self-sufficiency and the pursuit of higher education.

SIX-YEAR-OLD MOE MOE RECEIVES LIFESAVING SURGERY

Six-year-old Hein Moe Moe Win – or Moe Moe, as she likes to be called – only knew a life of exhaustion and breathing difficulties after being diagnosed with a hole in her heart at just three months old. Moe Moe coped with her congenital heart disease by relying on medication that controlled her condition, but it stunted her growth and limited her ability to play with friends and go to school. Thanks to the Nu Skin Southeast Asia Children’s Heart Fund, the young girl from Myanmar, Singapore, now has hopes and dreams for her future that once were not possible.

Her family knew she needed surgery to fix the hole in her heart, but the cost of medication and doctor visits drained her family’s income. Moe Moe’s father approached the Nu Skin Southeast Asia Children’s Heart Fund for financial support and was relieved to learn the Fund would pay for Moe Moe to have the corrective operation she so desperately needed. The young girl is recovering and grateful for her second chance in life, and she intends to live it by helping other sick children. She looks forward to receiving an education so she can become a doctor and save lives like hers.

VITAMEAL HELPS EL SALVADOR GIRL SUCCEED IN SCHOOL

Jacqueline, 12, lives in a dirt-floor hut in rural El Salvador with three siblings and her single mom, who struggles to put food on the table. As a result, Jacqueline depends on the VitaMeal served at her school for nourishment and strength.

Nu Skin’s Nourish the Children charity partner, Convoy of Hope, has provided VitaMeal to 75 children at Jacqueline’s remotely located Tapacún School in rural El Salvador for more than a year. Jacqueline credits the rice and lentil mixture of VitaMeal for helping her grow taller and improving her concentration so she can complete her classroom assignments.

“Thank you,” said Jacqueline. “Without VitaMeal at school, I would go hungry and school would be harder.”

- 65,440,710 meals purchased and donated in 2015

Nu Skin is a for-profit distributor of nutritional and skin care products in 54 markets and is traded on the New York Stock Exchange (NUS). Nourish the Children is an initiative of Nu Skin and is registered in some states as a commercial co-venture. The initiative enables Nu Skin’s distributors and customers to purchase VitaMeal from Nu Skin and donate it to charitable organizations to help solve the complex world problem of feeding malnourished children. The price of VitaMeal includes the cost of manufacturing, general overhead, distribution and sales. As is the case with other Nu Skin products, distributors are paid commissions and Nu Skin earns a profit margin from each sale of VitaMeal, which is lower than the profit margin on virtually all of Nu Skin’s other products.
