The Nu Skin Force for Good Foundation is proud to partner with Educate! on their out-of-school youth solution to help build alternative education to employment pathways for youth unable to access secondary education.

Educate! helped train Rashimi and Aisha, two women in Uganda who had to drop out of school at a young age. Thanks to what they learned at the youth boot camp, Rashimi started a fruit salad and juice business, while Aisha started a soya flour-making business to help boost children's health in their village. Through the training, the sisters increased their sales and profitability, making a profit of UGX 25,000 per week.

Nu Skin is a for-profit distributor of nutritional and skin care products and is traded on the New York Stock Exchange (NUS). Nourish the Children is an initiative of Nu Skin and is registered in some states as a commercial co-venture. The initiative enables Nu Skin's brand affiliates and customers to purchase VitaMeal from Nu Skin and donate it to charitable organizations to help solve the complex world problem of feeding malnourished children. The price of VitaMeal includes the cost of manufacturing, general overhead, distribution, and sales. As is the case with other Nu Skin products, brand affiliates are paid commissions and Nu Skin earns a profit margin from each sale of VitaMeal.
