

Facts

It is estimated that 30 million men in the United States experience some degree of diminished sexual function.

Men can experience sexual dysfunction as early as age 40.

At any age diminished sexual function may be a result of antidepressant or anti-hypertensive medications, depression, diabetes, or hypertension.[†]

[†] Consult with your physician if you are taking medications for any of these conditions before taking Venix.[™]

Venix™ . . . the Natural Way to Sexual Well-Being*

Venix™

Venix™ is an all-natural dietary supplement uniquely formulated by Pharmanex® to help improve your intimate moments. The active ingredient in Venix™ is Triacin™. The Pharmanex® proprietary formula helps promote normal, healthy circulation in the body, which in turn helps support sexual well-being.*

Benefits of Venix™

- Promotes healthy sexual well-being*
- Helps support blood circulation*
- Assists normal hormonal balance*
- 100% natural formula
- Supported by clinical research

Competitive Advantage

Venix™ is the only dietary supplement on the market that contains Triacin™, a proprietary blend of Ginkgo biloba extract (50:1), Cordyceps sinensis, and L-Arginine. Venix™ has been clinically tested for the promotion of sexual well-being.*

How Venix™ Works

Venix™ helps promote sexual well-being in three important ways:

1. Supports healthy blood circulation*
2. Promotes vitality and stamina*
3. Assists normal hormonal balance*

A lack of healthy circulation can cause impairment in normal sexual function. Hormone levels, mood, and emotional well-being also affect sexual well-being. The constituents found in Triacin™ have been shown to promote circulation, vitality, and normal hormonal balance.* Triacin™ also contains a key ingredient found to be a natural precursor in the body for nitric oxide (NO). NO is a naturally occurring messenger substance that helps to dilate or enlarge blood vessels, which in turn promotes healthy circulation.* Take twice daily and allow four to six weeks to produce desired results.

Ingredients in Venix™

Venix™ contains Triacin, Pharmanex's unique proprietary blend of Cordyceps sinensis, Ginkgo biloba extract, and L-Arginine. Venix™ is available in a 30 day supply bottle (120 capsules).

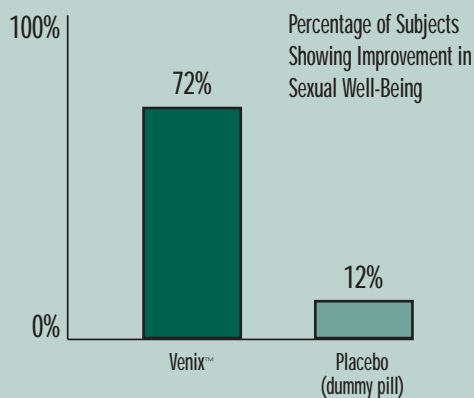

Pharmanex Standard

The Ginkgo biloba extract in Venix™ is standardized to a 50:1 ratio (50 parts inactive ingredients to 1 part active). It provides 27% flavone glycosides and 7% terpene lactones. Additionally, each batch is then tested against 15 other quality criteria including heavy metal and residue solvent, ginkgolic acid, and microbial content. Each batch of Cordyceps sinensis is standardized to guarantee potency and consistent results by supplying minimum levels of 0.14% adenosine and 5% mannitol.

The Research

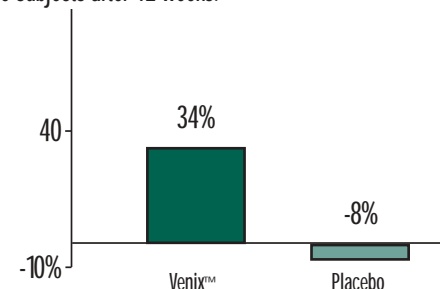

In a recently completed clinical study involving subjects taking antidepressant medication, Venix™ significantly improved sexual well-being in men experiencing diminished sexual function.* (Overall, 72 percent of participants taking Venix™ experienced a significant improvement in sexual well-being.*)

Clinical Results of Venix™ Supplementation on Sexual Well-Being

In male patients treated with the combination product, there was a 34 percent improvement in the Arizona Sexual Experience Summary Score at week 12, compared to an eight percent worsening in placebo patients.*

Actual Improvement in Sexual Well-Being in Male Subjects after 12 weeks.
