lifepak[®] nano

Enhanced molecular delivery
anti-aging program

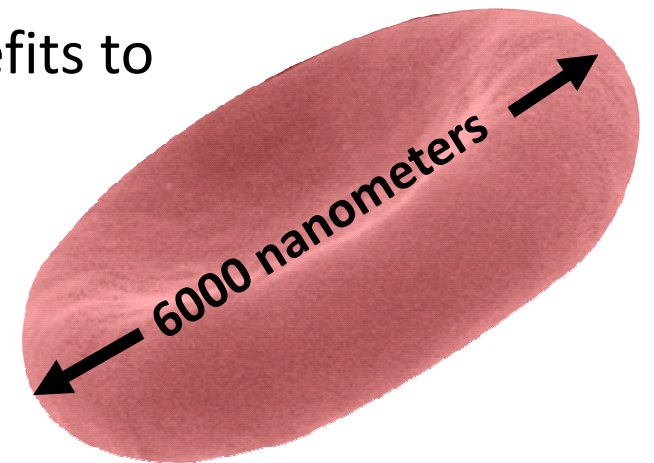

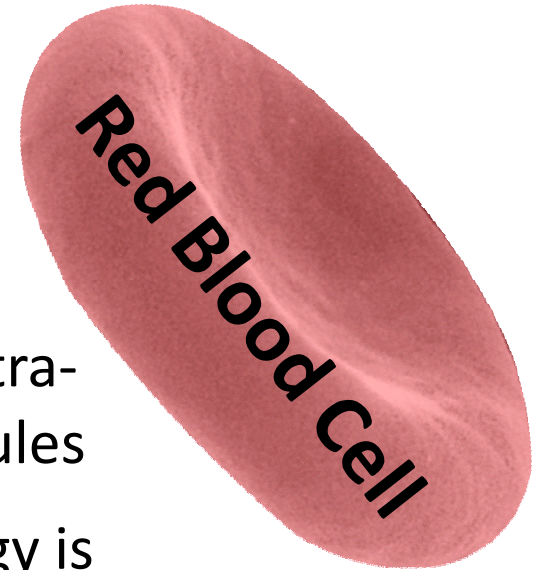

What is LifePak Nano?

A comprehensive nutritional wellness program delivering optimal amounts of essential and semi-essential micro- and macronutrients typically lacking in diets, for the support of all body systems and organs for long term health and wellness.

What does “Nano” mean?

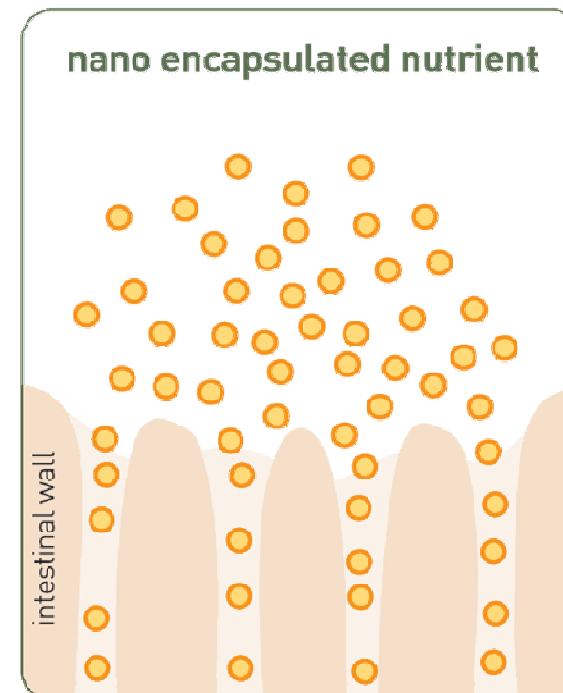

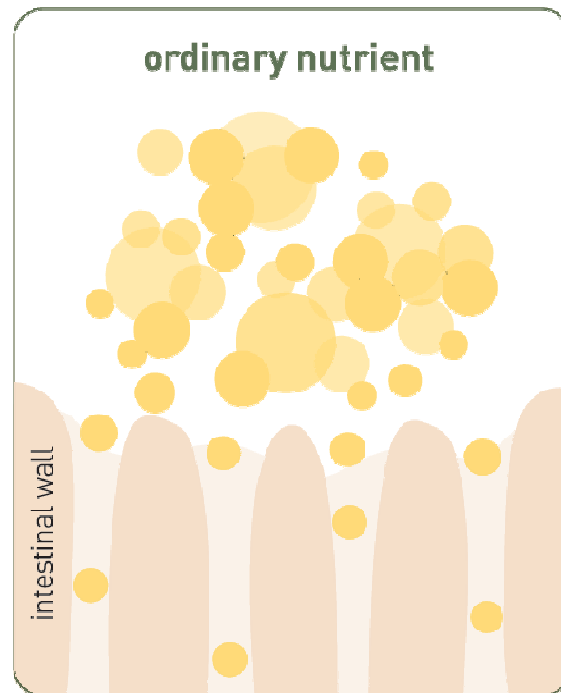

- A nanometer represents 1 billionth of a meter
- It provides a useful unit for measuring ultra-small structures such as cells and molecules
- As applicable to nutrition, nanotechnology is the manipulation of nutrients at the molecular level to enhance their benefits to the body.

How do nano-nutrients work?

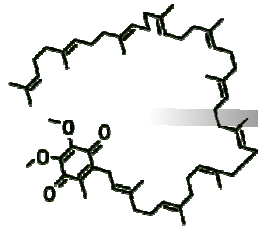

Fat-soluble nutrients like carotenoids and coenzyme Q10 tend to cling together in the digestive tract, making them difficult to absorb.

Nanoencapsulated nutrients do not cling together, thus increasing their contact with the absorptive-cells of the digestive lining, which increases absorption.

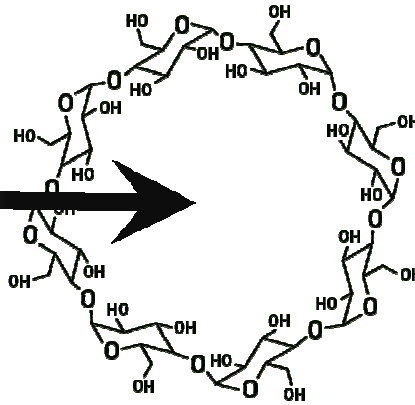

What does “Nano” mean?

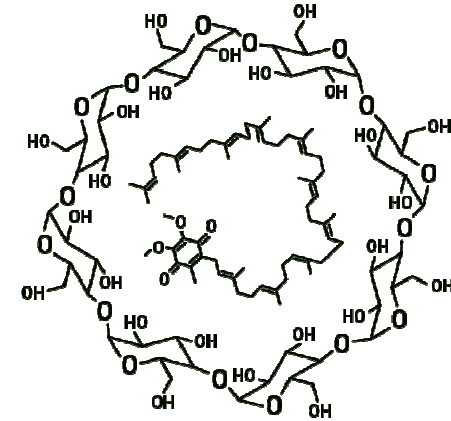

Difficult to absorb nutrient
(example: CoQ10)

Nano-capsule

Nano-nutrient

The application of nanotechnology employed by Pharmanex is a mono-molecular encapsulation where single molecules of important nutrients are embedded into single nano-capsule molecules. Since every single molecule of each nanoized-nutrient is wrapped in its own individual nano-capsule there is complete molecular dispersion of these fat-soluble nutrients in the water soluble environment of the digestive system.

1. Unlike traditional fat soluble nutrients, nanoencapsulation allows complete dispersion of nanoized nutrients

2. The nano-capsule delivers and releases the nanoized nutrient to the site of absorption.

Cell of intestinal wall

3. The nutrient is absorbed into the intestinal wall where it enters the blood stream for delivery to body tissues.

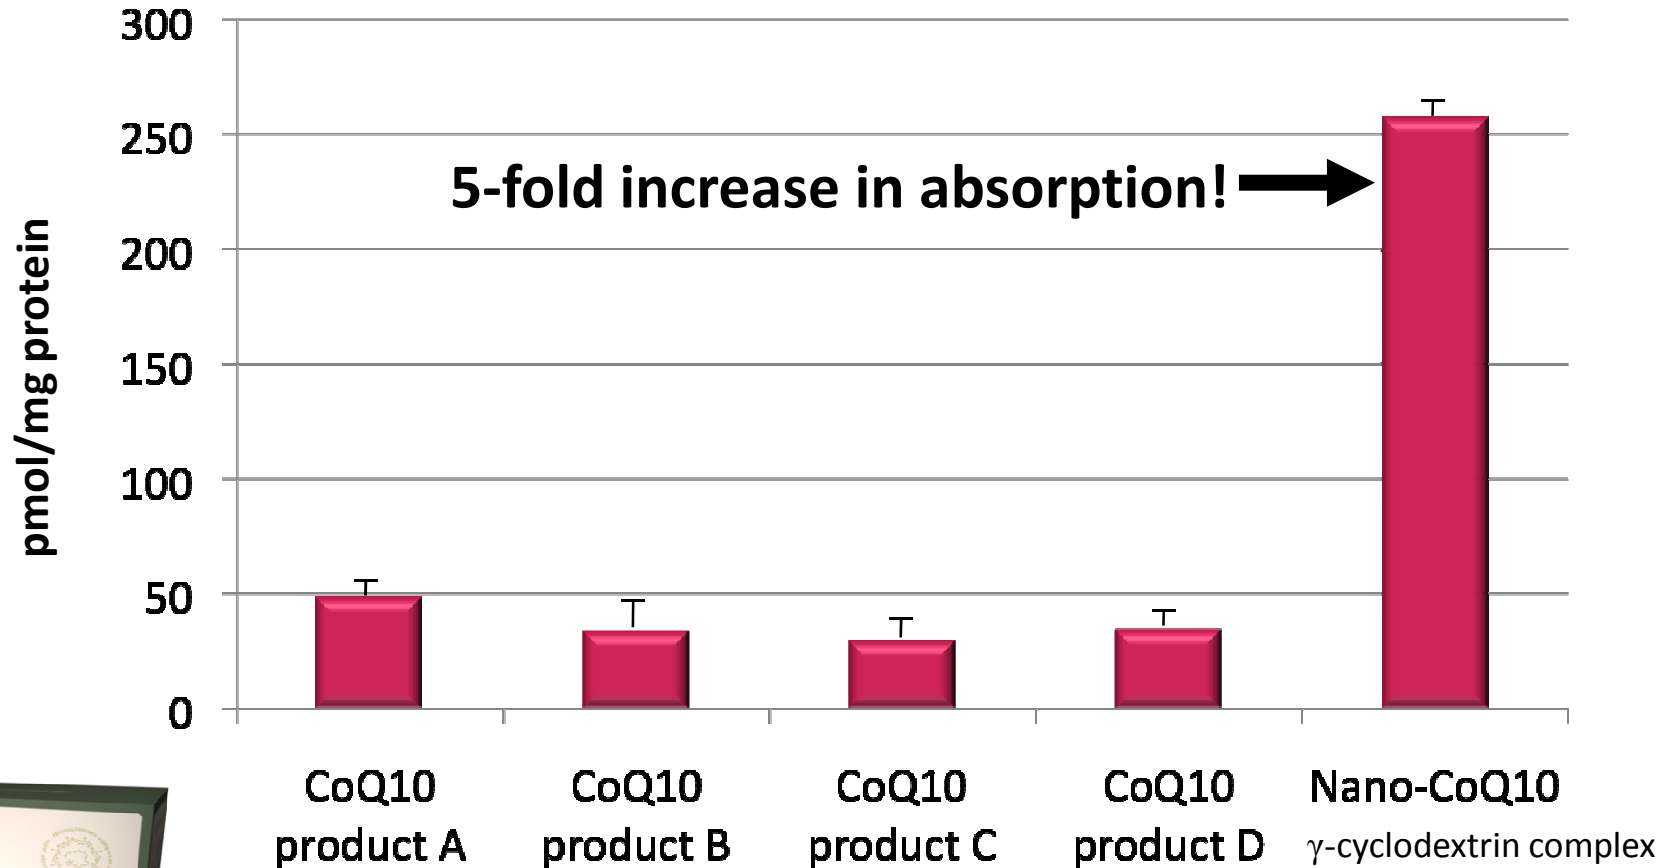

Digestive System

4. The nano-capsule is broken down further in the digestive system

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window with the title "lifepak nano - Microsoft Internet Explorer provided by Nu Skin". The address bar displays "http://www.lifepaknano.com/lpnano/index2.html". The website content includes the "lifepak nano" logo, a navigation menu with items like "DO YOU NANO?", "NANO TECHNOLOGY", "NEW LOOK", "PRODUCT OVERVIEW", "NANO BENEFITS", and "HOME", and the PHARMANEX logo. A main headline reads: "New lifepak® nano helps your body absorb more of the essential vitamins and nutrients in the LifePak® you know and love." Below this, there are three main sections: 1) A woman in a blue athletic top with her arms crossed. 2) "Advances in technology" section with the text "have led us to a new level in nutrient absorption" and a chemical structure diagram, with a link "about nano technology". 3) "new formula" section with images of pills and the text "Lifepak® nano comes with fresh new packaging to herald a new generation of LifePak®.", with a link "view 360°" and an image of the product box. At the bottom, a dark banner contains the text "Lifepak® nano protects the vitality of your lifespan. Whether you're at home with the kids or rushing off to fulfill a career, lifepak® nano is formulated with the benefits you need." and a link "view benefits". The browser's status bar at the bottom shows "Done" and "Internet".
